

Windows into Data

n is the length of the data sequence w is the width, shared by each window s is the slide, shared over each window n is the data length w is the width spanning each window s is the slide separating successive window starts only the 'first' currently windowed item expires with each slide